

09:15-09:30	Wellcome Remarks
09:30-09:50	LTsER Montado Platform: a long-term research and monitoring infrastructure (Margarida Santos-Reis – cE3c/FCUL)
09:50-10:10	Viewing and illumination geometries in an oak woodland landscape and its implications on remote-sensed temperature from space (Carlos Câmara– IDL/FCUL)
10:10-10:30	From the regional effects of climate to the local effects of grazing: measuring changes on montado by satellite and ecological indicators (Pedro Pinho – CERENA/IST & cE3c/FCUL)
10:30-10:50	Ecological indicators for tracking the long-term effects of climate change on dryland ecosystems: the case-study of Montado (Cristina Branquinho – cE3c/FCUL)
10:50-11:10	Coffee-Break
11:10-11:30	Modeling the long-term natural regeneration potential of holm oak woodlands (Adriana Príncipe - cE3c/FCUL)
11:30-11:50	Assessing grazing effects at the farm-level: a multi-taxa approach at Companhia das Lezírias (Paula Gonçalves - cE3c/FCUL)
11:50-12:10	Carbon and water fluxes in a cork oak woodland: the Machuqueira do Grou LTER site (Filipe Costa e Siva – CEF/ISA)
12:10-12:30	Acorn isotopic and chemical analyses: a tool to understand the ecological processes influencing the growth and physiology of Q. rotundifolia (Cristina Máguas – cE3c/FCUL)
12:30-14:00	Lunch
14:00-14:20	Understanding groundwater behavior in Companhia das Lezírias (Maria Paula Mendes (CRVM/IST)
14:20-14:40	Water-use strategies in montado ecosystems (Teresa Soares-David - INIAV)
14:40-15:00	Long term socio-economic monitoring of montado sustainability (Marta Calvache - CENSE /FCT/UNL)
15:00-15:20	Valuing the montado ecosystem: the land managers perspective (Leonor Almeida – cE3c/FCUL)
15:20-15:40	Coffee-break
15:40-16:10	Working Group on Mapping and Assessment of Ecosystems and their Services (MAES): first results of the Pilot Study on forest ecosystem services (José I. Barredo European Commission - Joint Research Centre Forest Resources and Climate Unit)
16:10-16:30	The LTsER Montado Information System: a tool for scientists and society (Alzira Ramos– CERENA/IST)
16:30-17:30	General Discussion: Building a sustainable future for montado